State Hospital Needs TV Sets For Patients

Clyde W. Warwick of The Canyon News has started a drive among Canyon citizens to collect funds for the purchase of a television set for the Abilene State Hospital at Abilene.

Mr. Warwick recently received a letter from William T. Lawler, Director of Education and Rehabilitative Therapies at the hospital, in which the need for 12 more television sets was outlined.

Anyone interested in making a donation toward the purchase of the set to be given to the Abilene institution may contact Warwick or leave their donations at The News office.

There are more than 1500 patients in the hospital and an effort is being made to put one television set in each building. The programs bring much of the outside world back into the lives of the patients, and bring them many hours of happiness. Many of the patients spend many years in the hospital and need the type of entertainment that television offers.

Mrs. Mary E. Boyce was the first contributor to the TV Fund, as she is well acquainted with the hospital and its work in Abilene.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

"In God We Trust" Subject For a New Stamp Issue

The Jackson Sun calls attention editorially to a fact worthy of wider announcement and greater emphasis than it has received: That in April the United States Post Office issued its first regular postage stamp bearing the cherished motto, "In God We Trust."

It is engraved on all of our coins—and American coins do get around. It manifests the belief so eloquently expressed by Treasury Secretary Salmon P. Chase, when in 1864 this usage of the phrase was adopted, that "no nation can be strong except in the strength of God."

But as the Sun remarks, there is a significance in the fact that the first stamps bearing it will be of the eight-cent type principally used for international mail. It certainly isn't amiss to let those abroad, with whom we have occasion to exchange correspondence know we trust in God.

That never is a misplaced trust; and we never make a mistake in asserting it, either individually or nationally insofar as fact undergirds the assertion.

Conversely, the mistakes we have made have been in compromise of the principle—as when national leadership a few years ago yielded to the arrogant forces of militant atheism to ignore God at the birth of UN.

We need divine guidance; more and more are recognizing the fact and returning to it. Let the stamps proclaim it, too.

"In God We Trust."

Saving the Eyes of the Kids Who Fire Deadly Fireworks

A determined fight in Congress to save the eyesight of children from the ravages of the fireworks manufacturers is on. After this Fourth of July it will likely be a crime against the United States to sell or offer for sale any kind of fireworks in any state of the union.

The fireworks boys have put up a stiff fight to save their plants in which they have millions of dollars invested. Yet, the manufacturers of liquor have likewise a huge investment, and so far no one feels sorrow that the trend of opinion is against the sale of liquor.

One of these days the sale of liquor will be classed in the sale of fireworks. The only difference is that fireworks blind children, while liquor damps the souls of men.

So far as the Newsman is concerned, we have a distinct feeling for boys and girls who have their eyes blown out by fireworks. Most of them are the victims of a vicious racket and are the victims of greedy individuals who are seeking to make a profit from the sale of fireworks. We know, simply because we were once the victim of fireworks. We have worn glasses since a mere boy simply because our eyes were nearly blown out when a firecracker exploded in our face.

There is no such thing as "safe" fireworks. They reap a tragic reward.

Collateral Is Needed Before Any Safe Loan Is Made

When you go to a bank or an individual seeking a loan, do not be caught in the predicament of the following farmer. Just remember that when you ask a banker for a loan, he is loaning you the money of the depositors, whom may call for that money at any time and therefore he must make sure and certain that you can repay the loan when it is due.

The story follows:

A farmer called on a banker to get a loan in order to make a cotton crop.

"Well, let's see," said the banker. "What do you have as collateral? Do you have a tractor?"

"No," replied the farmer, "I have found that I can hire my plowing, planting and cultivating done cheaper than owning my own equipment."

"How about some cows?" the banker queried.

"Nope. With just me and my wife we find it cheaper to buy our milk."

"Well, then, maybe some hogs?"

"No hogs. We can buy our meat cheaper than we can raise the hogs."

Further questioning developed that the farmer had no collateral, and that he could buy his stuff cheaper than owning it.

"Well, then," the banker proposed, "suppose you just come around this fall and maybe we can buy you some cotton cheaper than you can raise it."

Giving Of Your All . . .

Give . . .
your mind to know Christ
your will to love Him your imagination to meditate Him
your memory to thank Him your ears to hear Him your tongues to praise Him your passions to console Him your hands to glorify Him your substance to honor Him.

The sad truth is that Russia and China form the core of another bloc of aggressor nations bent on dominating the world.

The fate of the Republican party in this fall's election hangs on what Congress accomplishes in the next two months.

Those who have been without a dollar, or started a business the hard way, know the value of money.

If you think this is hot weather you have something to look forward to.

A vacation in June, July or August might add several years to your life.

We are continually amazed that most people take themselves seriously.

It's strange that the more you do for some people the more they expect.

Who can tell us when the longest day of the year will occur?

We nominate "Shake, Rattle and Roll" as a hot song hit.

The politicians should leave their politics outside the church door.

Sale of "E" Bond Going Strong in Randall County

The sale of E Bonds to Randall county citizens is still increasing.

According to a report from the government, Randall county up to May first has met 41.80 per cent of the 1954 goal. Only eight counties in this area surpasses Randall in the amount of sales.

According to the report, the sales throughout Texas amounted to only 27.67% of the quota for the year. Even with the prevailing drouth, the Amarillo district was above the state average with 30.84% of the quota having been met.

Two counties of the Panhandle were responsible for the low percentage of the Amarillo area, with one county selling only 1.40% of the quota, and another only 1.94%. The balance of the counties are doing pretty well in the sale of bonds.

Let's continue the march toward "sound money" by investing our surplus cash in Government savings bonds.

Sure Way To Lose Your Soul In This Mad Rush Thru Life

A Chaplain in the United States Air Corps has issued the following ways in which one may lose his own soul:

1. Never say your prayers—they just remind you of God and your soul.
2. Stay in the sack on Sundays—chalk up another missed church service—the devil loves it.
3. Get drunk as often as you can—that will quiet your inhibitions and lead to all sorts of sins.
4. Read any pocket-size book you can get your hands on—the dirtier the better—they give you lots of bad thoughts.
5. Put up as many striptease pinups as possible. They'll remind you constantly of sex.
6. Use the name of God in a curse as often as possible. Then He will be a byword and not your best friend and final judge.
8. Don't write home any more than you have to—that will remind you of what is expected of you.
9. When you do fall into sin — DON'T T. . . DON'T go to church. That will get you back in the state of sanctifying grace and spoil things for sure.
10. Follow these rules and you'll be sure to lose your soul.

Financial Reports of County, City and Schools Are Demanded

The Texas Press Association has introduced bills in the past several sessions of the legislature demanding financial statements from all groups which collect and handle tax money be published in some newspaper of general circulation in the county which collects taxes.

So far the lawmakers have ignored the plea. They argue that the publication fees are too high! This is a mere subterfuge.

We are told that a citizen of Canyon is threatening to go to court to demand the publication of county, city and school collections and expenditures. We have made no investigation, but know that he has a good cause.

It has been the practice of publishing quarterly reports of Randall county until recently; for the city of Canyon at infrequent intervals; and never of the school district. There is no law requiring publication of school receipts and expenditures, as is the case of the county and city.

If and when such a suit is brought, the outcome will be watched with interest throughout the state of Texas.

If there is no depression in the next few years, and we don't expect one, people will some day look back on the fifties as the golden fifties—an era of opportunity!

One of life's mysteries is the female battleship who sits down in a restaurant and orders fried chicken, fried potatoes and fried onions.

If American boys ever get bogged down in a fight with the Chinese in Indo-China that contest will make Korea seem like a picnic.

We saw a movie the other day in which the hero didn't run around with women, didn't drink and wasn't a killer.

This is the time of year when it's nice to watch the sun come up in the morning—after a night's sleep, that is.

It is surprising how often radio commentators enjoy the combination of deep, full voices and empty heads.

DEFENSE FUNDS

The House Appropriations Committee has reported out a bill calling for the spending of $28,680,706.500 for the "new look" defense program in the fiscal year starting on July 1. This is $1,206,348,500 less than had been requested by President Eisenhower and, if passed, will mean that the armed forces will get $5,632,614,000 less than Congress voted them in the 1954 fiscal year.

SECURITY OUSTERS

An employer on defense work does not have the right to declare a worker a security risk and suspend him without pay, according to a ruling by Curtis G. Shake, a former Judge of the Indiana Supreme Court and arbitrator in a labor dispute. An employee cannot be denied an opportunity for a hearing or for review and the Government has set proper procedures for such cases, the opinion stated.

As part of its annual May Day celebration, Russia put on view for the first time a new four-jet bomber capable of delivering atomic bombs to far-distant points. Military observers were greatly impressed with the enormous new craft.

The Commerce Department has reported that the national product in the first quarter of this year was at an annual rate of 1½ per cent below the figures of the final quarter of 1953.

A proposal that would add 3,000,000 persons in the armed services to Federal Social Security coverage has been presented to Congress.

A proposed Constitutional amendment to retain the Supreme Court at its present number of nine and make retirement of Federal judges at 75 years compulsory has been approved by the Senate.

President Eisenhower, restating his belief in a bipartisan foreign policy, dissociated himself from Republican attacks on the loyalty of Democrats by saying he could see no difference between Americans by party.

AUSTIN: Texas fast-flying governor returned from a vacation in Alabama, spent a few days in the state, and planned off to Korea, where he and other state executives will make an inspection tour at the invitation of President Eisenhower.

While in the capital, Governor Shivers was very busy doing these things:

Answering charges of disloyalty to the Democratic Party by saying that when he supported Mr. Eisenhower for President in 1952 he was really fighting to preserve the principles of the party of Jefferson and Jackson because he wants the Texas party and the national party to return to those principles in unity.

Announcing that the campaign manager in his race for re-election will be State Senator Otis Lock of Lufkin, and that campaign headquarters in Austin would be opened right away.

Answering Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic National chairman, who said that he would deal with the Texas Democratic Advisory Council, rather than the state democratic executive committee. Shivers told Mitchell: "I strongly suspect that your statement is an announcement of your entry into the Texas governor's race. I welcome that challenge."

Saying that Texas and other states would need years to work out compliance with the non-segregation rule.

Promising that as long as he is governor, there will be no state sales tax or income tax.

Naming Weldon Hart, chairman of the Texas Employment Commission, as chairman of the newly-created Governor's Economic Advisory Commission.

Announcing that John VanCronkhite, his former aide under attack in an insurance court case, is not in his present re-election campaign.

Lloyd's Closed
After a nine-day hearing in 98th District Court here, Judge Charles O. Betts granted a temporary injunction, asked by the attorney general's department, forbidding the Lloyd's of North America Insurance Co. from doing business in Texas.

At one time, VanCronkhite was employed as public relations counsel for the company, he testified during the hearing.

Insurance Muddle
There was comment from several sources on the insurance situation.

Garland A. Smith, chairman of the state insurance commission, pledged the greatest possible protection to holders of policies issued by companies doing business in Texas.

Smith emphasized that state in-insurance laws are sound, fundamentally, but that some changes are necessary. He said some new laws will have to be passed, and that they probably will be, at the next session of the Legislature.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd said he would appear before an El Paso County grand jury June 4 with evidence of possible criminal violations of Texas insurance laws.

At El Paso and other Texas cities, Shepperd has filed suits against insurance companies, forcing them into receivership. Charges have been that the companies were created through fraud and were insolvent.

Financial Reports
Attorney General Shepperd advocates a law requiring publication of all financial reports on all government levels.

Shepperd also opposed secret sessions of governmental bodies, saying, "There is no place on an open door for a sign saying closed meeting or executive session."

What has happened in Duval County, Shepperd declared, "can happen anywhere, and will, unless the lesson is told and retold."

TV in Education
J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education, has appointed a 56-member group, authorized by the Legislature, to study the role of television in education. S. Mortimer Brown, El Paso school superintendent, is chairman of the body.

Allowables Up
Texas oil allowables for June will be 3,010,515 barrels, the Railroad Commission decided. That is an increase from the May figure.

Resort Lodges
Progress was being made in plans to construct four resort lodges, each to cost about $1 million, at Inks Lake near Burnet, Eisenhower Park on Texoma, Lake Whitney, and Texarkana Reservoir in Cass County.

This is a project of the State Parks Board. The money for building the lodges would come from revenue bonds. Private operators would lease the lodges and run them.

Wets and Drys
Texas Rangers are investigating trouble between the wets and drys at Bandera.

Rev. Joe R. Townsend, Baptist minister in that West Texas resort and ranch town, moved for a dry election after saying that he had been thrown through a plate glass window.

Refunds Coming
Employers of Texas are going to get refunds amounting to several million dollars from the Texas Employment Commission.

A decision of the Supreme Court in a case concerning Todd Shipyard Corporation is responsible for the refunds. Todd maintained that its unemployment tax rate was too high and would have been lower if the corporation had been notified by TEC of all claims made by former Todd workers.

In and Out
About as many Texans went into the armed services as came out in April, says Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state selective service director.

Reserves to Meet
Texas Department of the Reserve Officers Association will hold an annual convention and service conference here May 28-29, when high ranking officers of all branches of the services from Washington will attend, along with an expected 200 state reserve officers.

New Building
Dedicated here was a new South Texas district headquarters building for the Internal Revenue Department.

Present for the ceremony was T. Coleman Andrews, commissioner of internal revenue.

Most of the five-story building will be occupied by the Austin district of the internal revenue department.

More Vegetables
There will be a 20 per cent increase in acreage planted to commercial vegetables planted in Texas this year, according to a forecast of the Crop Reporting Board of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Panther Warnings Issued
Sheriff T. O. Lang of Austin has issued frequent warnings to Capitol City residents that a panther large enough to leave a print like a man is roaming the rugged Bee Cave area west of the city.

One housewife in the hill section reported hearing two panthers screaming, one on each side of her home, about a mile west of the Bee Cave road. Several citizens in the area report seeing the animal.

Burglar Trap
Austin police will be able to get the jump on burglars here, very soon now, thanks to a new piece of equipment devised by a local detective agency.

The secret is a quiet alarm that tips off the police via a panel in the Police and Courts Building. It replaces the jangling alarm bell so often found inside of buildings.

L. G. Phares, organizer and first director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, invented the new device. He has operated his own detective agency here since 1941.

Shivers Names Advisors
Dr. Henry A. Holle, state health officer, and Earl Cabell of Dallas, president of the Texas Manufacturing Association, have been added to the Governor's Advisory Commission, a recently appointed commission composed of some 25 members.

John M. Griffith, Taylor banker and president of the Texas Bankers Association, has been appointed to replace T. Neill Greer, past president.

Herschel E. Nix, San Antonio, replaces E. L. Powell, president of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce, on the same committee.

BOYCE HOUSE

Alfred You Texas

As the Steamboat Invincible made its way up the Mississippi (according to T. B. Thorpe, a writer who flourished seventy-five years ago), the passengers in the cabin were startled by an Indian whoop from the bar. Then there was a loud rooster crowing and then the hero of these accomplishments thrust his head into the cabin and shouted:

"Hurrah for the Big B'ar of Arkansas!"

Then the Big B'ar walked in. Clad in rough, homespun clothing, he was tall and was big of bone. Obviously he was in a genial mood. He took a chair, put his feet on the stove and asked, "Strangers, how are you?" then expressed himself as being as much at home as if he were at the "Forks of Cypress Creek and perhaps a little more so." In a moment every face was smiling for something about the Big B'ar won the heart on sight.

"My home place is the finest on the Mississippi," he proclaimed, "though the location did have some defects until the river made the cut-off at Shirt-tail Bend. That brought my cabin on the edge of the river—a great advantage, I can tell you. You can now roll a barrel of whiskey into my yard in high water from a steamboat."

"Then look at my land! I planted a few potatoes and beets one time, then went to Kentucky on business. Next I heard from them growing things was when I met a fellow, three months later, who had stopped at my place with the idea of buying. He said, 'The cabin is convenient and the timber land is good but the bottom land ain't worth a red cent; it's full of cedar stumps and Indian mounds; it can't be cleared.'"

"I said, 'Them cedar stumps is beets and them Indian mounds is 'tater hills.' The crop had overgrown while I was away. The soil of Arkansas is too rich. Planting in Arkansas can be dangerous."

"I had a good-sized sow and the old thief stole an ear of corn and took it down to where she slept at night to eat. She over-looked a couple of grains, lay down on them and went to sleep. Before morning, the corn shot up and the percussion killed her—yes, sir, killed her dead. So I don't plant any more in that rich Arkansas land; Nature intended Arkansas for a hunting ground and I don't go against Nature."

JUDGE RETIREMENT

Under the terms of a proposed constitutional amendment, passed by the Senate, all Federal judges would be forced to retire when they reach the age of 75. Besides the mandatory retirement provision, the proposal would fix the size of the Supreme Court at nine justices, thus preventing any future attempt to enlarge or cut the highest tribunal. Since it may be years before there is final action, presumably few, if any, of the present Federal judges, would be affected.

AID BUSINESS FIRST

In speaking before a CIO "full employment" meeting, Treasury Secretary Humphrey declared that helping business is more important to the economy right now than helping consumers. He contended that the nation cannot be prosperous unless heavy industry thrives and that it is the buyers of the products of heavy industry—the generators, turbines, all the big things—which are the businesses and the people who invest their savings.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

AS DAY IS FROM NIGHT—

A LARGE PART OF THE TWENTIETH CENTURY HAS SEEN TOTALITARIAN SYSTEMS TRIED IN VARIOUS PARTS OF THE WORLD. DARKNESS HAS DESCENDED UPON THOSE PEOPLES, AND CLOSED OFF THE BORDERS OF SEVERAL FORMERLY FREE AND INDEPENDENT NATIONS.

IN OUR DEMOCRACY, WE STRIVE EVER TO BROADEN THE SPIRITUAL, POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC BASE ON WHICH WE STAND, AND TO BRIGHTEN THE RAYS OF ENLIGHTENMENT INSTEAD OF DARKENING THE MINDS OF MEN.

AS DEWITT CLINTON SAID IN 1826: "A GENERAL DIFFUSION OF KNOWLEDGE IS THE PRECURSOR AND PROTECTOR OF REPUBLICAN INSTITUTIONS; AND IN IT WE MUST CONFIDE AS THE CONSERVATIVE POWER THAT WILL WATCH OVER OUR LIBERTIES."

Segregation May Influence Voters When Fall Elections Come Around

By HARRY S. DENT
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON: One burning question in Washington these days is just how much, if any, the recent Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in public schools will boost Republican hopes in the fall congressional elections.

Southern leaders in the U. S. Senate have implied the court's pronouncement was deliberately set to help the Republicans maintain control of Congress in 1954 and the White House in 1956. Among Southerners expounding theory have been Senators Burnet Maybank (D-S.C.) and Mike Monroney (D-Okla.). They are quick to point out that the period for re-arguments to help the court decide when and how to end segregation has been set for October, one month before the November elections.

Many of their colleagues, including Senators Richard Russell (D-Ga.) and Olin Johnston (D-S.C.) have also blasted the ruling as politically motivated.

At his press conference following the ruling, President Eisenhower indicated he desires no praise or blame for the decision, in reply to questions by this newspaper's Washington reporter.

This reporter asked the President if he thought the decision coming under his Administration had put his 1952 Southern supporters, such as Governor Byrnes of South Carolina, Shivers of Texas, and Senator Byrd of Virginia,

Story of Lumber Was Shown to the Rotary Club Tues.

Raymond Raillard was in charge of the Rotary Club program Tuesday, showing a motion picture of the development of the lumber business in America.

The picture was based upon Paul Bunyon, who marched across the continent as an explorer, cutting away trees, and replanting the forests.

The enemies of trees were shown as men, insects, and fires. Wild game is sheltered where there are forests.

Today more than 4,000 products are made from wood. Pictured were the methods of preserving forests; of logging; of utilization of all by-products of woods, even the bark of the trees. When man first started to use timber, only 20% of the trees were used; today nothing is wasted of the timber and its products. Research continues in its work of replanting and finding new products for timber.

"Wood built America" was shown in the final picture on the screen.

Clarence Thompson passed the cigars in honor of his new grandson.

Dr. M. R. Callihan was presented as a new member of the Club by Dr. Chas. Nester.

Lowell Harrison and Ples Harper were appointed to bring an exchange student to Canyon.

Visitors were: Bill Herechum of Long Beach, Calif.; Earl Phillips of Hereford; Charles Barkley of Commerce; M. D. Shepherd of Canyon; Chas. Whittenburg, E. Kancher, John Oakes, J. H. Torrey, J. H. Harrison, Allen Early, Max Cofer, all of Amarillo.

No Sudden Change in Public Schools Seen by Court Action

By STANLEY JAMES

WASHINGTON: Despite widespread speculation about the Supreme Court's decision that separation in the public schools is unconstitutional, the fact is that few changes will occur in many of the 17 affected states soon.

There is every evidence that the court tried carefully to avoid forcing a program that could well cause friction, even though it found that mandatory separation of the races in the public schools is unconstitutional. By announcing that the states' Attorneys General would be called to discuss how the situation could best be worked out, the court insured that no drastic action would take place immediately.

It appears that the next school year will already be underway before Attorneys General of the various states present their plans. While there may be some changes, the situation will certainly not be clarified until further hearings are held.

Perhaps the most surprising thing about the decision will be the lack of sudden, or overnight change, it brings. Custom dies slowly, and where both races are satisfied with their schools, especially in areas where population is about equally divided, there will be a general reticence on the part of parents and students to attempt to force entrance of a few students into a particular school.

The unanimous decision of the Supreme Court Justices caught most observers by surprise. There is speculation that several Justices went along in making the decision unanimous only on the basis that no overnight change would be ordered by the highest court. The May 17th court decision seems to allow ample time for individuals, school authorities, and states to act in accordance with the decision.

Bible Verse to Study

"Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets; I am not come to destroy but to fulfill."

1. Who was the author of the above statement?
2. To whom was he speaking?
3. Upon what occasion?
4. Where may it be found?

BIBLE VERSE ANSWERS:

1. Jesus Christ.
2. To his disciples and the multitude.
3. While preaching what we have come to know as the "Sermon on the Mount."
4. Matthew 5:17.

Oft expectation fails, and most oft there
Where most it promises; and oft it hits
Where hope is coldest, and despair most sits.
—Shakespeare

The International Olympics Committee, by a 23 to 21 vote, admitted Communist China as a participant in the 1956 Olympic games.

I have had many troubles in my life, but the worst of them never came. —Garfield.

TWO-PRICE PLAN TRIED

The Eisenhower Administration is turning to a once-rejected "two-price" plan as a device for supporting farm income and unloading heavy crop surpluses. The Agriculture Department is now using this plan in efforts to sell at home and abroad more wheat, flour, butter, cheese, dried milk, flaxseed and cottonseed oil and some fruits. Corn, oats, rye, barley and grain sorghum soon may be added to this list.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH

Without freedom of thought there can be no such thing as wisdom, and no such thing as public liberty without freedom of speech; which is the right of every man as far as by it he does not hurt or control the right of another; and this is the only check it ought to suffer and the only bounds it ought to know.

—Benjamin Franklin

WORLD POPULATION

According to a United Nations report, the population of the world 30 years from now will be 4,000,000,000 but "ignorance, greed, strife, superstition and blind adherence to tradition" will prevent the necessary increase of food and other necessities, so that living standards will still be depressed.

CONSERVATION

One Japanese bragged to another that he made a fan last 20 years by opening only a fourth section, and using this for five years, then the next section, and so on.

The other Japanese registered scorn.

"I was better taught. I make a fan last a lifetime. I open it wide, and hold it under my nose quite motionless. Then I wave my head."

THAT'S WHY

"Pardon me sir," said the hotel clerk. "Would you mind telling me your name?"

"My name?" snorted the new guest. "Can't you see where I signed the register?"

"Yes, sir," was the reply, "that's what aroused my curiosity."

SAVING TIME

"And what would you like for your birthday present, Tommy?" asked the fond mother.

"Oh, a telephone," replied the youngster promptly.

"Whatever for?"

"Then I can ring up and answer teacher's questions without having to go to school."

Jerry Lester, the TV comic, tells about an ensign who was given a ten day leave to go on his honeymoon. At the end of the ninth day he wired his commanding officer: "It's wonderful here. Request ten days extension of leave."

He received the following reply: "It's wonderful anywhere. Return to ship at once."

A man bought a cigar and started to light it. "Didn't you notice the sign?" asked the salesgirl. "What?" exploded the customer. "You sell cigars in here but you prohibit smoking?" The salesgirl smiled sweetly: "We also sell bath towels."

William F. Tompkins, new head of the Internal-Security Division of the Justice Department: "The public is entitled to full-time administration of justice and prompt, vigorous prosecution of violators of the law."

Bernard M. Baruch, retired financier: "The time has come to stop the lending by governments to governments and to give private industry the opportunity to show what it can do."

One miner walked up to another miner and began shaking his fist in the guy's face. "What's this I hear about you telling everyone you saw a wart on my wife?"

"That's not true," the other exclaimed. "I merely said it felt like a wart. That's how these rumors get started."

Experience finds
Few of the scenes that lively hope designs. —Crabbe.

Mustard Seed... and FAITH

If a "mustard seed amount" of faith is placed in God, one can do great things. It is also of some value to have faith in one's self. With faith in ourselves, our fellows and God, we can span streams, move mountains, change the course of rivers and make ourselves masters of our universe. But no man can do it alone.

ONCE man learns the goodness of God and that it was He who created the marvels of the earth, then his accomplishments will be greater. At your church you will learn that "all things work together for good to them that love God." Here we see God and man working hand in hand against the flood. He gives us strength, He gives us courage, He gives us the know-how. Like the giant earth-moving machine God waits for men of faith. He waits for men to serve Him with the kind of faith that moves mountains. How much faith do you have?

You In The Church...
The Church In You
Form a combination for good. We should attend church regularly. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the CHURCH. Be faithful. Be a Churchman!

Around the Town..

(By Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick)

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Thompson, pioneer business people of Canyon, have been married 59 years. They moved to Canyon 54 years ago and on July 1st, 1908, Mr. Thompson became manager of what is now Thompson Hardware Company, and has worked in this same business ever since. He was helped by Mrs. Thompson until her ill health five years ago forced her to retire from active work in the store. Today from his desk in the rear of the store he watches as his son Clarence, his daughter-in-law Tom, and his grandson Clarence Eugene carry on the business which he helped establish. Few men are privileged to see the business they have established carried on by a son and a GRANDSON.

Unless you till the soil, you cannot reap the harvest.

Your temper is one of the things that improves the longer you keep it.

What next? Now in California they are marking their cars His and Hers.

Franklin Kaiser, 11-year-old fifth grader who edits and publishes his own community newspaper, summed up the vacation story in his latest edition this way:

"School's out June 4. Kids can't wait. Teachers can't wait. But the mothers can."

Mrs. Walter McGehee of Wayside was one of the winners in last year's Tri-State Fair culinary division. And here she shares her prize-winning recipe:

LEMON PIE

1 cup water
3/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
4 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 cup cold water
3 egg yolks, beaten
1 tablespoon butter
4 tablespoons lemon juice
Boil water, sugar salt, lemon rind. Add flour and cornstarch mixed with 1/2 cup of cold water. Cook slowly, stirring constantly. Add beaten egg yolks and cook two

Rev. and Mrs. Lester Hill, pastor of the Methodist Church, have purchased the Jim Coffee home at 1111 6th Ave. They plan to use this as their home after retirement. In the meantime Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Rigby will live in the home.

This makes three Methodist ministers who have purchased homes for retirement in Canyon. Rev. and Mrs. Hubert Thomson, former pastor of the Methodist Church, purchased a home for their retirement home of the future, and Rev. and Mrs. Edgar Irvine who are in charge of the Methodist Encampment have purchased a home to be their home on retirement.

Four other Methodist ministers have retired in Canyon. Rev. and Mrs. T. F. Robinson, the first regular Methodist pastor in Canyon, retired in Canyon, as did Rev. and Mrs. John A. Wallace, Rev. and Mrs. Braswell and Rev. and Mrs. George Wyatt. These later three had never been pastors in Canyon but chose it as their home after retirement.

Miss Moss Richardson has deeded her home at 1904 4th Ave. to the Northwest Texas Conference to be a home for superannuated Methodist ministers. A generous gift from a gracious lady.

Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Groves, who was pastor of the Presbyterian Church from 1907-1910, retired in Canyon until ill health forced them to move to their daughters.

Mrs. Katherine Kunzie whose husband was a pastor of the Presbyterian church retired in Canyon. Purchasing a home at 704 20th St. where she lives today.

In the Baptist church four ministers have retired in Canyon. Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Younger, Rev. and Mrs. Burnett, Rev. and Mrs. Hicks, and Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Fronabarger. Rev. Fronabarger and family of four children came to Canyon to be pastor of the Baptist church Jan. 1915. He retired in 1922 and purchased the home at 2616 4th Ave. where Mrs. Fronabarger with her children, Dr. Ford Fronabarger, Miss Elva Fronabarger, and Luther Fronabarger live today. Mrs. Fronabarger, now 85 years old, is strong, hearty and enjoying life with the same zest, interest and enthusiasm she has always had.

There is no measuring the influence these retired ministers have had on the religious life of Canyon. We are glad they feel Canyon is a good place to live.

Congratulations Margaret Foster—Margaret decided she wanted a degree, that she needed more education to carry out the civic work in which she was interested and to live a richer, fuller life. With her usual determination and intensity of purpose she completed the four year course in two years and nine months. This without neglecting her home, church or civic duties. She says she could not have accomplished this without the always hearty cooperation of her husband Lee and her daughter Sally.

Margaret left Friday to attend the meeting of Presbyterian women at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., where she will be one of the discussion leaders of the "New Policies for the coming four years for Presbyterian Women." This meeting of Presbyterian Women is held every four years and is attended by 4,000 women from all states of the U. S.

Notice the beautiful prairie flowers. The rains have brought them out in all their loveliness. There are many blooming on both sides of the underpass just east of the Santa Fe depot.

I am trying to get my yard to where it is perfectly beautiful and I won't have to do a "LICK" of work. Can anyone tell me how to do it?

Mrs. John S. Humphreys is having a wonderful time visiting her daughter and family in Nashville, Tenn. She writes: "These grandchildren! Are great institutions. The weather has been cold and very much rain."

"I think that it is essential for our inner peace to feel that somehow, some way, we are helping to make the world a better place. We get from life about what we put into it, and it seems to me as I grow older, that we learn that happiness is within us, and stems from the satisfaction we get from helping and sharing with our fellowmen of all races and creeds and nationalities." —Paul Comly French.

An unknown poet put it this way:
"It's silly to distrust the world
Suspecting all mankind
The world is just a looking glass

Mrs. Willis M. Tate, wife of the new president of Southern Methodist University, says she is no authority, but it is her belief that there are no problem children. Instead, she contends, there are problem parents.

Try the new Killer Kane on your dandelions and all other broad-leaved weeds. It is the easiest, surest way to get rid of these lawn pests. It has instructions how to use printed on the Kane and you do not have to stoop. So easy a child could use it.

Farm Bureau Head Asks For Wheat Loans

WACO: J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, said this week he hoped the U. S. Department of Agriculture approves distress loans on wheat stored on the ground before the harvest rush on available elevator space begins.

Unless such loans are approved, wheat producers will have to find government-approved storage for their grain to be eligible for government loans under price support regulations. With large Commodity Credit Corporation stocks already in storage, the problem is expected to be acute when the 1954 wheat and grain sorghum harvests begin.

Hammond has been negotiating with USDA officials in Washington since March, trying to get approval of emergency loans for grain stored on the ground. He said he has urged them to announce approval before the harvest rush begins to avert "disastrous prices."

It was just five years ago, in 1949, that Hammond originated the idea of storing wheat on the ground. At that time, he led a one-man crusade to get his ideas approved.

Elevator operators claimed that storage space for government loans for the 1949 crop was not available. After the harvest rush began, some farmers were forced to sell at prices far below the government loan price.

Hammond appealed directly to President Truman, and the following day the government announced its approval of loans for wheat stored in the open. Elevators immediately opened their bins to farmers, and very little, if any, wheat was actually piled on the ground.

The government approved emergency loans for on-the-ground storage last year, but not until after the harvest had begun. Wheat prices shot upward immediately after the announcement.

Baby's Bottle Bounces the Ounces

BY EDNA MILES

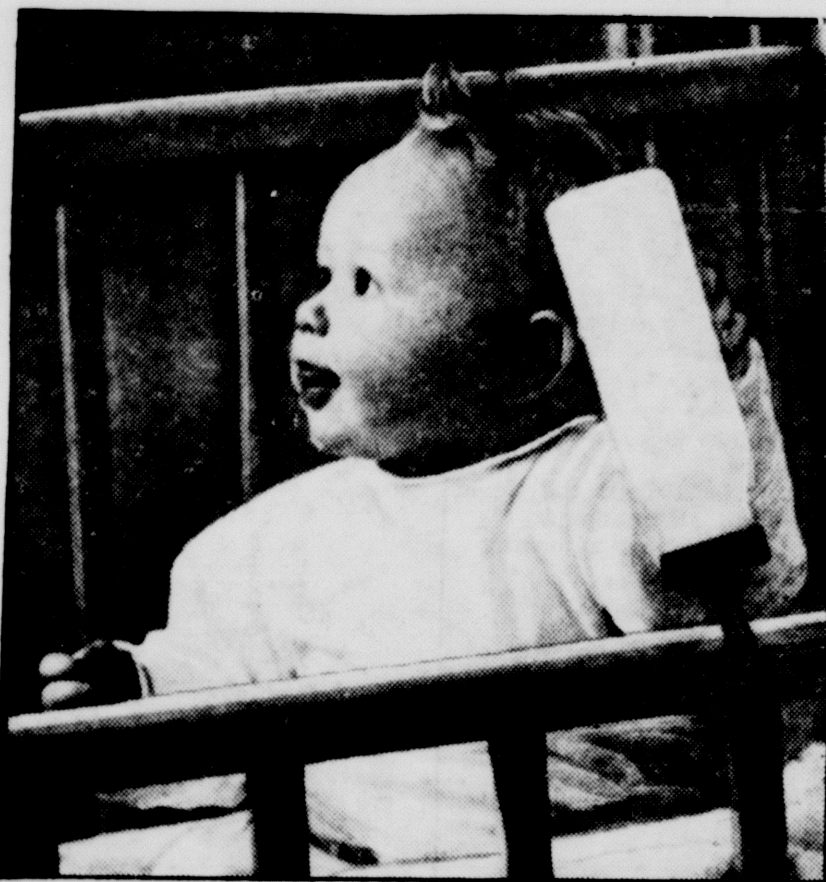

THE new plastic nursing bottle may well prove to be the greatest boon to mankind since sliced bread. Just ask any mother (or father) who's struggled with a bottle at 3 a. m., only to have it crash to the floor.

And if you could interview Baby, he'd tell you he likes a bottle on which he can get a grip. He'd also tell you he expects to break a number of bottles, and at this point Mother will step in to tell you that not only is this true, it's expensive.

The answer to these problems was thought up by an irate father who got up in the wee hours, fumbled the baby's bottle and decided there must be some easier way to go at the whole thing.

As he caressed his bruised left foot, his eyes fell on a plastic cosmetic container belonging to his wife. And a brand-new polyethylene nursing bottle was born, one that's odorless, tasteless, harmless to formula and a natural insulator as well.

Formula, the makers of this bottle claim, keeps warm five times longer than in glass. This is an extra boon if yours is a slow-feeding baby.

Going—going—but not gone. When Baby heaves one of the new plastic nursing bottles overboard, there's a crash, but no smash. Easy to clean and heat-retentive, the well-nigh unbreakable bottles are a real boon to Mother, Dad, and the pocketbook.

Property Right of June Brides Are Being Questioned

June is traditionally the month for weddings, and many couples will be taking marriage vows within the next few weeks. But the act of marrying another person does not give you the authorization to take control of his property.

Generally speaking, each spouse has the right to control and dispose of his or her own separate property. The separate property of a husband or wife includes property owned by either before marriage, and that which is acquired by either after marriage by gift or inheritance. Any other property acquired after marriage is presumed by law to be community property until the contrary is clearly proved.

Aside from the ordinary community estate, there is a class of property known as the wife's "special community," which includes all the income from her separate real property, and probably the interest on bonds or notes, and dividends on stocks owned in her separate right. While the husband may have similar assets, the law accords them no particular distinction from ordinary community property.

Although the history of the matter is somewhat confusing, it appears that under present day law the husband has control of ordinary community property; but control of the wife's special community property is reserved to her.

Certain restrictions are imposed upon both husband and wife in exercising such control. For instance, the husband cannot legally dispose of community property in such a way as to defraud the wife, nor can he sell the homestead without her signature and acknowledgment. And the wife's sale or mortgage of her separate real estate, stock or bonds is not valid unless her husband joins with her in the transaction—he must sign and execute the necessary legal papers along with her.

There are laws exempting the wife's separate and special community property from liability for debts incurred by the husband. Such liability is restricted to his separate property and the ordinary community property.

On the other hand, debts incurred by the wife in obtaining necessities for herself or the children bind all property belonging to either party, including the husband's separate property. For other debts which she has power to incur, only her separate and special community property are lia-

All of these distinctions emphasize the advisability of keeping proper records. By doing so the various classes of community and separate property owned by a married couple will always be easily distinguishable. Each category will then receive the special protection afforded to it by our laws.

Texas One of 13 Southern States To Join Safety

Texas is one of 13 Southern states which have joined with 11 Northeastern states in a concerted effort to control highway speeds during the peak period of summer travel.

Patterned on a similar program which was conducted in 1953 by the Northeastern states group, a "Slow Down and Live" campaign will be conducted in 24 states from Maine to Texas this year from Memorial Day through Labor Day.

The Texas Safety Association, working jointly with the Texas Department of Public Safety, will act as coordinators in making the summer watchwords of the highways from Passamaquoddy to El Paso — "Slow Down and Live."

The agreement of the 24 states to conduct the program has been announced by a joint declaration of the governors of the states participating.

J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, has been named State Safety Coordinator for the project.

In explaining the reason for the campaign, Mr. Musick said: "Traffic accidents are more than an important social and economic problem—they are a national tragedy! The experience of states, counties and municipalities tells us that 9 out of 10 accidents result from the action of drivers afflicted with the 'in a hurry' complex—the 'me, first' attitude. On the highways this viewpoint is expressed in the traffic violations involving SPEED, including: speed too fast for conditions, following too closely, failing to yield right of way, improper passing and plain, excessive speed."

Mr. Musick also pointed out that this program differs from other traffic safety campaigns in that it concentrates in a single area of traffic law enforcement—the violations associated with speed—during the peak period of summer traffic. "The campaign," he said, "is entirely under the direction of public officials, assisted by organized public support. It sets no unified policy as to methods of enforcement and has no 'axe to grind' regarding a particular speed limit. Each state, county and community steps up enforcement of its own statute or ordinance."

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18th CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Pending Legislation

There is a great deal of legislation to be acted upon by this Congress before adjournment. Among the major bills which have been passed by the House but have not yet been acted upon by the Senate are the St. Lawrence Seaway Development, the Housing Act of 1954, and Public Health Grant-in-Aid Amendments of 1954. Other important items are listed below.

Appropriations

The annual appropriation bills yet to be acted upon by the House are: (1) Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare; (2) District of Columbia; (3) Foreign Aid. In addition to the annual appropriations, there will probably be one or two supplemental appropriations bills brought before the House. Of the eight annual appropriations bills passed by the House this session, the Senate has passed only three, namely, Independent Offices, Treasury and Post Office, and Army Civil Functions. The Senate is presently considering the agricultural appropriations bill.

Social Security

The Ways and Means Committee has just approved H. R. 9366, Social Security Amendments for 1954. Under the provisions of the bill as approved by the committee, it is estimated that coverage will be extended to about 10 million persons not now covered. In finally approving the bill, the committee reversed a previous decision to extend coverage to doctors, interns, student nurses, policemen and firemen. By the time you read this, the House will probably have taken action on the Social Security bill, as it is scheduled to be brought to the Floor of the House on June 1st.

Agriculture

The agricultural committees of both the House and Senate have had extensive hearings on general farm program legislation, including proposals on price supports and disposal of surpluses. This, of course, is one of the most important measures to be acted upon by this Congress.

Taxes

The Senate Finance Committee is presently working on the House-passed general tax revision bill, H. R. 8300. As I mentioned in a previous newsletter, this bill consists of 820 pages, in small print. The Senate committee has held hearings on the bill and has had it under consideration in executive session for the past two weeks. It is estimated that the committee will hold executive sessions on the bill for about two more weeks.

Proposed Amendment

The Senate Judiciary Committee has approved a proposed Constitutional amendment "to enable Congress to function effectively in time of emergency or disaster." This proposed amendment would permit state governors to appoint members of the House if a disaster should create more than 145 vacancies.

Sun Tan Dangers Not Worth the Effort and Trouble

AUSTIN: The therapeutic value of a sun tan probably isn't worth the trouble and risk it takes to get one.

That's the word from the State Health Department. They say a tan is nothing more than a manifestation of a skin injury.

But these same health officials are first to admit that a sensible bask in the sun makes a fine mental pick-me-up. Overdoing it the first week of sunshiny weather is the thing that leads to trouble.

Sunshine in large doses can kill you. More than one "sunshine sucker" had succumbed to a hot sun when he wasn't accustomed to it. Even at best over-exposure can mean two or three miserable days and sleepless nights when a mere shirt is torture.

Some people are physically unable to tan. Known medically as "heliophobes," they could spend the entire summer in the sun and all they'd get would be blisters on the blisters. The reason is that their skin lacks the pigment necessary to produce the tan tint, and each new exposure means a new burn.

But if you simply have to have that golden sheen this summer, you can avoid disastrous complications by following these recommendations from Dr. Henry A. Holle, the state health officer.

Assuming you're a type who can tan—a "heliophile," that is—do it by repeated exposures of, say five minutes for the first two or three days. Then increase exposure time to 15 minutes for a couple more days, and then 30 or 45 minutes until you're well done.

After that, you'll probably be safe as far as burning is concerned. But there is still the danger of sun stroke or heat prostration.

Sunshine is a source of vitamin D, as most people know. What they apparently do not know is that ordinarily healthy people can get all the vitamins required simply by normal living.

Ever wondered about the source of freckles which sometimes spread so becomingly across an upturned female nose? Here's the answer:

The color of everyone's skin is determined by the amount of pigment which is formed by the body as a defense against sun rays. Dark-complexioned people have considerable, blondes very little, and albinos none at all. Sometimes, especially in children, pigment is unevenly manufactured and collects in spots. These spots are freckles.

LaMaster Is Alarmed Over War in South

Perryton: Commenting on recent news developments concerning the shipment of arms to Latin American countries, LeRoy "Pete" LaMaster, Republican candidate for Congress, said that it was time the United States woke up to the serious threat of Communist infiltration occurring in South America.

LaMaster and his wife spent approximately 18 months touring Panama, all ten of the South American Republics, the three Guianas, and 12 of the Caribbean Islands. They went to the interiors of the countries, lived among the people and observed first hand the anti-American propaganda put out by the Communist workers. In many cases they saw signs and demonstrations praising the Communists and degrading the United States.

He said he was surprised to find that the news reaching the people here at home was so misleading as to the true conditions existing there. This is in regard both to official and unofficial news sources. LaMaster states that it was disturbing to him to find such a seeming lack of knowledge of the true situation among the American Embassy and Consulate personnel with whom he talked.

It was also disturbing, he says, to find the same lack of concern among the officials of American companies operating in the South American countries. LaMaster makes it plain that this condition existed under the past administration and before the Eisenhower administration had time to evaluate and act on the situation on its own behalf.

The trip covered time from Dec. 1951, through May, 1953. Mr. and Mrs. LaMaster have given many talks and programs since their return to the Panhandle. Speaking before civic clubs, professional organizations, church groups, schools, and farm organizations, they have stressed the threat of the rapid spread of communism throughout the Latin American countries. LaMaster was quick to agree with Secretary Dulles when he said that the war being waged in Latin America was surely as important as the one in Indochina; the difference being a war of bullets in Indochina and a war for the minds of the people in Latin America.

LaMaster says he feels we can win the war in Latin America by sound and stern action, but that it is important that we have people formulating our policies who know first hand the situations confronting us there.

STAINLESS STEELS

An appreciable proportion of the 1953 production of chromium-nickel stainless steels was required for the defense programs. As nickel becomes available in larger quantities for civilian uses, there are indications that manufacturers of products for the architectural, appliance and utensil fields will return to the nickel-containing types of stainless steels because of their good fabricating characteristics and other outstanding properties.

HORMONES INFLUENCE MILK PRODUCTION

At least three different hormones have an influence on the secretion of milk by dairy cows, but no benefit can be expected from their use unless the cow's supply of these hormones is inadequate.

Veterinary medical authorities said this week that one hormone stimulates the growth and development of the mammary gland; another stimulates appetite and heart rate, increasing udder circulation, and the third speeds up the "let down" of milk.

Night club comic Joe E. Lewis complained to his audience: "My doctor told me to quit drinking if I wanted to live. I work in these places every night and all I can say is that I see a lot more old drunkards around than old doctors."

1953 NICKEL PRODUCTION UP
Production of nickel by the free world is believed to have approximated 340,000,000 pounds in 1953, an increase of about 20,000,000 pounds over 1952 and 50,000,000 pounds over 1951.

Infestation with lice presents a winter problem in many cattle herds. Treatment with chemicals to kill the parasites is effective, but care must be used to keep cattle out of drafts after spraying to avoid disease complications.

U. S. shipyards are said to be below "desperate" point in operations.

We sat at a long dinner table the other night and watched the brilliant costume jewelry sparkle in the candlelight. Forgetting the solemn duty of listening to a slightly dull speech, we noted a bracelet here, a brooch across the table, and some earrings down the line. Each caught the reflected light of a flame and danced gaily with it through a quick flash of prismatic color.

It was really pretty. And we felt the same delight we used to get from a piece of broken mirror in the sun. We'd snare a dancing bit of rainbow and play it into dark corners or onto tree leaves. We'd focus it on a ring finger and pretend it was a huge, sparkling solitaire.

And then we thought of something else. All of the women at that dinner were of modest means. Probably not one wore real diamonds. Probably not one resented another's finery. If her neighbor's stones were larger, it was occasion for observation but not envy. From fifty cents to fifty dollars, these bits of paste and glass were brothers under the skin.

But, we idly wondered, if our own bracelet were made of really expensive gems, would we be pleased by this synthetic glitter? Would we resent the "cheapness" here, as detracting from the beauty of our own genuine stones?

And again it occurred to us that maybe the poor do have some things that the rich can neither have nor understand. For precious jewels, like great wealth, give added responsibility to their owners. Those wearers, too, might enjoy the purely sensory pleasure of watching bright light dart from glass — if they could see it. But because they're looking from a different angle, they simply couldn't appreciate a beauty so cheaply acquired.

Accurate diagnosis is important in treatment of bovine mastitis cases. Veterinary medical authorities report that antibiotic or sulfa treatments which clear up bacterial infections will aggravate mastitis cases which are caused by yeast formations.

For an accurate diagnosis of trichomoniasis in cattle, the living organism must be found in either the cow or the bull. This disease may cause sterility or breeding troubles in cattle.

Despite all the publicity given to newer diseases of poultry, fowl typhoid and fowl cholera still are major disease problems in poultry. These diseases remain as serious a threat as ever.

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, has no intention of resigning, despite reports to the contrary. The President and Mr. Dulles see eye to eye on U. S. policy for dealing with foreign problems.

President Eisenhower has made it clear to golfing companions that it will be Congress and not the White House that will take responsibility if this country goes to war to save Southeast Asia from the Communists.

Republican planners are giving serious thought to the following slogan to be used by Republican candidates for election in November: "Ike needs me back in Washington to help him keep us out of war."

Inside betting among military men who have a right to opinion is that the United States will not get involved in the Indo-China war. The betting is, too, that if the first wager is lost, then GI's as well as Air Force and Navy will be in the war.

Charles Wilson, Secretary of Defense, visiting the Far Pacific last week, was told by American military men that the French in Indo-China have the man power and arms to hold the delta area of Indo-China almost indefinitely provided those resources are properly used.

Mr. Eisenhower is not impressed by arguments advanced by the French to date on why the United States should take over much of the Indo-China war. The President is pictured as annoyed that the French have not moved faster to give full independence to native states and to encourage those states to ask the United Nations for help. He still wants joint action.

Secretary Dulles is asking Congress to give him a freer hand in allotting the billions of dollars of foreign military aid. Mr. Dulles wants authority to divert to other nations the money now going to France for war in Indo-China, if that war ends in a truce.

George Humphrey, Secretary of the Treasury, remains unconvinced by U. S. military leaders that there now must be a restudy and probable speed-up in the military program. Mr. Humphrey indicates it is not time yet to forget about the budget.

Admiral Arthur W. Radford, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, is the strong man of the Administration when it comes to urging a firm stand by the U. S. in Southeast Asia. He is more outspoken than other military leaders.

Mr. Eisenhower is continuing to take rather a dim view of the plan to admit Alaska to statehood, even though the Republican platform and both houses of Congress favor the plan. The President is told

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Probably next to mother-in-law jokes, the most frequent stories are built around the lady and the home builder, in which the lady from day to day so changes the plans the builder is always confused.

And that seems to fit the Washington situation.

Congressman James Van Dant states largely because of imports of cheap fuel oil from Venezuela and Dutch West Indies, U. S. coal production has dropped from 145 million tons in 1947 to 91 million tons in 1953. Coal industry employment has dropped from 109,202 to 56,668 in the same period and the trend continues.

U. S. is dumping ground for residual oils produced in these nations by big U. S. oil corporations. But Venezuela, whose residual oil is wrecking an entire American industry recently imposed a tariff duty on U. S. aluminum products up to 350 per cent.

On question of containing Communism. Today U. S. troops are stationed all over the world; thousands died in three years in Korea. U. S. Vice President states if French pull out of Indo-China, U. S. troops move in.

Yet in classic warfare, there are two grand points of strategy. One is to destroy enemy ability to produce; the other is to maintain a naval blockade. Yet Harold Stassen, in charge of the U. S. giveaway programs tells Congress trade with Russia should be increased. This means Russia could get things she needs.

When dairy support prices that only 9,000 American citizens over the age of 21 claim Alaska as their residence, with others considered migrants.

Sam Rayburn and other Democratic leaders no longer hold to the idea that it would be just as well for Republicans to keep control of Congress after the November elections. Democrats now reason that they will gain more than they lose if they capture Congress and assume responsibility for legislation with Eisenhower in the White House.

Richard Nixon, Vice President, tried to convince Senator Joseph McCarthy that Communist-hunting activity should be left to the Justice Department and its FBI, while the Senator took to investigating other things. Senator McCarthy was not interested and intends to push ahead with his hunt for Communists within a Republican Administration.

Herbert Brownell, Attorney General, will move warily in dealing with any action to get indictments for perjury involving Republican officials who testify in the McCarthy-Pentagon squabble. Odds are that few if any officials will face trial.

Democrats profess to be increasingly pleased by the impression left on voters by prominent Republicans fighting among themselves on television programs day after day.

The President is bringing to bear all of the White House influence that he can muster in an effort to convince Congress that it should not extend high-level price supports on farm commodities for one more year. Those who favor high supports insist that Mr. Eisenhower is not able to muster a majority in Congress for his view.

Democrats in the House are confident that they can write whatever they want into the new Social Security law. They claim to have discovered that the Republicans are so badly split over details that Democratic votes will be needed to save the Eisenhower program. Democratic strategy is to drag out Social Security hearings until party leaders can force into legislation some formulas and provisions for benefits that Republicans never intended.

were lowered, government support prices on over one-third of a billion dollars worth of government owned cheese also came down about a nickel a pound.

But a long advance notice was given of this drop in prices, so cheesemakers unloaded millions of pounds to the government at the old support price, and bought it back immediately after at new lower price. Thus a profit of almost a nickel per pound was made without cheese leaving producers warehouse.

It was announced this plan was followed in hopes milk price paid farmers would not be immediately cut by the cheese makers. But with three firms controlling most of the U. S. cheese supply, milk prices were cut long before date cheese subsidy cut went into effect. They can seem pretty naive in Washington, too, at times.

Also among government surpluses are large stocks of linseed oil, vital in paintmaking. Recently the government sold 84 million pounds to European firms for 7 cents per pound.

This might be cited as an example of what free world trade means to the U. S. except for one little fly in the oil.

The oil sold by the government for 7 cents per pound, cost more than twice that amount. So U. S. taxpayers lost about $11 million on paint, still pay high prices for paint to maintain homes, farms, businesses.

So where is wonder over just what plan, if any, is being followed in Washington.

Obviously the answer is there is no plan. It is also obvious if government is going to avoid bankrupting every American, destroying every independent U. S. business, every American home, a sound business plan must be adopted soon and adhered to.

Members of Congress Steer Clear McCarthy

By STANLEY JAMES
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON: Most members of both parties—in both the Senate and House of Representatives—have had enough of the Army-McCarthy hearing. A lot of them say quite frankly Congress has more important things to do than get into a battle royal over the question of who told the truth in the Schine-Cohn-McCarthy-Stevens-Adams affair.

And even if Congress didn't, a battle royal has already been staged and the public has had a good show. But with the end of the fiscal year just around the corner, much legislative business lies immediately ahead.

Many Republicans also fear any continuation of the Republican fight will do serious harm to their party's chances in this fall's elections. The Democrats, standing on the outside looking in, are more inclined to enjoy the whole affair.

There are indications that Republican party leaders welcomed the Supreme Court decision on segregation in the public schools as both a relief from the steady diet of McCarthy-Army rowing, and as possible political asset for the fall elections. The President himself did not claim the credit or blame for the decision, and told reporters the highest court was under no administration.

Since the White House general staff decided to take the gloves off with McCarthy, the Wisconsin Senator has been at least partially on the defensive. President Eisenhower is said to be well satisfied with the Army case as outlined before the committee, and the general administration opinion is that the Army's case will improve with each continuing day of hearing. Whether this is right or not only time will tell.

But it is accurate to say that most members of the House and Senate think the hearing has consumed enough time and headlines. There is a widespread feeling of disgust among solons as the dog-fight drags on.

Business Picking Up? Republicans Need the Shot in the Arm Right Now

WASHINGTON: There are signs business is picking up, and one of them is perked up automobile sales. The eagerly-awaited trend is disputed by many economists but the automobile business barometer is hopeful.

Sales are some 200,000 behind 1953 totals but already approaching the 2,500,000 mark and expected to reach the 5,000,000 mark before December 31st. That's not an all-time record, like last year, but it's good sales volume.

Meanwhile, however, some Republican Senators and Congressmen who must offer for re-election this fall are showing signs of uneasiness over economic conditions. The farm situation, Secretary of Agriculture's flexible price supports program, the large number of unemployed, and the closing of mines, among other things, gives plenty of reason for anxiety.

Perhaps they are super-sensitive, but they know full well that a depression now—with the GOP in power for the first time in 20 years—would wreck the party. Yet it is generally agreed that no depression is in the cards.

A continuing and prolonged recession might be equally disastrous as far as the re-election efforts of some legislators this fall are concerned.

One ace in the hole is the possibility that defense expenditures will have to be increased over expectations. This would tend to prime business a bit, and whittle unemployment rolls. If the situation in the Far East continues to deteriorate, scheduled cuts in defense spending will certainly be cancelled and the net result will be about four billion dollars in the economy heretofore not expected.

French-Union forces in northern Vietnam have taken another licking, though official pronouncements from the French at Hanoi minimize the critical situation. The French are about to lose all of northern Vietnam despite their protestations that the situation in the northern part of that country is not critical.

The Communists are closing in around the French-defended area centered on Hanoi steadily and forces which were used at Dien Bien Phu are now being redeployed to the Red River Delta area. The French say they do not have the forces to stop the Communists, and one by one outposts are already falling into Rebel hands.

U. S. observers suspect native Indo-Chinese in the area are hostile to the French and friendly to the Rebels — a situation which doesn't help the defense. The French defense area will probably shrink under Communist pressure until it includes no more than a fortified area surrounding Hanoi. Then there could be another stand, like that made at Dien Bien Phu, or a complete evacuation by sea and air. (If the French get no outside aid, the latter course is more likely).

The prospect in northern Vietnam is thus black, a fact known well in the U. S. State Department.

The most frequently heard criticism of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, by his friends and enemies alike, is that the former European Supreme Commander has not yet grasped his party, and the Republican government, by the horns and taken charge.

Eisenhower is by nature a friendly person, but one who has plenty of fire down deep. His careful efforts not to lose patience, act rashly, and to work for teamwork, have paid off in past military assignments. But he has never had a job like the one he has today. Sometimes, his critics say, the President of the United States has to exert plenty of authority and exert it hard.

This Ike seldom does. Only time will tell whether the President can achieve what he desires to achieve in this manner. Few people, in either party, dislike the Chief Executive, but a lot of them think Ike delegates too much authority and plays the game too quietly.

Rapid Increase In Number Aged Social Security

During 1953, almost 600,000 men and women retired from their work and began to receive monthly payments under the old-age and survivors insurance system, according to John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo Social Security office.

This increase, Sanderson said, points up two facts: There is a steady increase in the number of aged persons in relation to our total population; and, the number of persons entitled to old-age benefits is rapidly increasing as the program approaches maturity. Thirty-six million people in the United States are now over 50 years old and 13 million are over 65. Four out of each five persons of the 36 million over age 50 are employed in work covered by the present social security program.

The program will protect more and more people as years pass and social security benefits will be an important factor in the financial status of these workers and their families, after the workers retirement.

Planned retirement — either elected by the worker, or forced by the employer, the worker's health or other reasons — is much simpler, Sanderson said, if the worker can estimate the amount he and his family will have from the social security program. This estimate can be made, he said, by the use of a free booklet, OASI-30, "How To Estimate Social Security Payments" which can be obtained at any social security office.

"AIR-BORNE" CONCRETE

A system of blowing concrete by compressed air through pipe from underground mixing stations into construction forms has been installed at International Nickel's Creighton Mine in Ontario. Traveling along levels, up or down manways, and through twists and turns of the mine's workings, the "air-borne" concrete often is carried more than a quarter of a mile by means of this novel installation.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Small business knowing corrosive effects of heavy taxation, is interested in reduction of government expenses. But while testimony of the General Accounting Office before a Congressional Committee indicates substantial wastage of taxes in the army due to lack of business understanding, further GAO testimony also indicates lack of business management in the State Department may not only be wasting tax money, but also creating a lack of respect for U. S. abroad.

State Department which once controlled a modest budget now absorbs substantial tax money. Last year State Department spent more than a quarter billion dollars, roughly $30 million more than Treasury Dept. spent operating far flung Coast Guard.

But State Department handling of funds could be partial reason why Europeans resist U. S. plans. General Accounting Office reports in 1949 State Department had one of its young men buy the Baron Rothschild mansion in France for U. S. Embassy.

The fact the then Ambassador did not want to live in the place did not deter Washington thinkers.

For $1,900,000 the Baron agreed to sell mansion to State Dept.

The mansion had carved oak wall panelling, marble bannisters, tapestries, other items of great value, GAO reports.

But young State Dept. man handling deal utterly neglected to get sale terms in writing.

© National Federation of Independent Business

But before deed was issued to U. S. the tapestries, the oak panelling, marble bannisters, other attachments were removed.

State Department officials in France inquiring at the time were told they were being removed for cleaning. Told that was not a U. S. custom, the Frenchmen apparently shrugged shoulders and said something like, "But messieurs, this is custom in La Belle France."

Before U. S. obtained possession mansion was so gutted it was uninhabitable, GAO says.

State Department official who made real estate deal with Baron Rothschild of famous international banking house without reducing terms of sale to writing, is still on job.

So almost $2 million American tax dollars were spent on a real estate deal in France in a manner that any American real estate broker could not use on the sale of a woodshed without risking license loss.

This could be a reason why French have not ratified European Defense plan. Perhaps the Rothschilds have entertained French officials on how they sold a mansion to the Americans.

This could have set French official brains to thinking along these lines. "If those crazy Americans don't know how to handle a $2 million real estate deal, are they precisely the people to trust with the lives and fortunes of 40 million Frenchmen?"

Whether one agrees or not with the policies and philosophies currently propounded in Washington one fact is clear.

In the family, on the farm, in business, and in nations, there is no substitute for sound business management for domestic tranquility, for prestige abroad.

FOR THE SICK

My little niece had accompanied her mother to church one spring Sunday morning. Suddenly, in the middle of the pastor's sermon, she whispered, "Mommy, I'm terrible sick."

"See if you can hold out until the service is over," urged her mother.

Susan did her very best, but it was to no avail. "I'm going to be sick all over the pew in a minute," she said.

Her mother became apprehensive and said, "Well, if you must, tiptoe around to the bushes in the garden in back of the church and then come back when you feel better."

In less than a minute Susan was back beside her mother. I knew it was just your imagination," her mother said. "You couldn't have been sick out in the garden and gotten back so quickly."

"I didn't have to go to the garden," said Susan. "I found a box in the back of the church marked 'For the Sick.'"

PRECIOUS CONTACTS

Several thousand contacts are put to work every time a dial telephone is used. These contacts, tipped with palladium, one of the precious metals of the platinum group, are utilized in the automatic switching equipment connecting the telephone with the one dialed. In a large modern telephone office, two million palladium relay contacts open and close a billion times a day. By resisting spark erosion and oxidation, the palladium contacts assure quiet circuits and long dependable service.

MARINE APPLICATIONS OF DUCTILE IRON

Ductile Iron castings find applications in the marine industry because they combine the corrosion-resistance of cast iron with strength approaching that of steel. They are used for general valves and piping, dock-side and deck gear, winch and hoist components, shackles and many other parts.

Just Between You, Me . . . and the Gatepost

By Lawrence Hunnicutt

One of the best ways to get your faith revived in people is to lose something and have it returned just as you lost it. This has happened to us twice, both times the case was losing the billfold in the show. Both times the billfold has been returned intact and a reward refused. Upon the last occasion, only a few days ago, Charles Donnell returned the billfold in person. You could go to many places before finding one that would accommodate you in the manner that people in Canyon do.

Most people in the vicinity are having to do something now that they haven't had to do much of for a long, long time, that is cut weeds and wild vegetation about the house and grounds. Although this vegetation is something of a problem, the green that it and other growing things provide are certainly beautiful to look at. If things go as expected there will be a really bumper wheat crop this year and then barring another period of immediate drouth, we should also make an excellent grain sorghum crop. These two crops would really bring a wonderful amount of prosperity into the community.

Before each holiday radios and newspapers throughout the country put on a safety campaign about driving slowly and carefully. It doesn't appear to do any good because statistics of dead and injured hold fairly close to the same bracket year in and year out. The accidents started early for us this Memorial Day week-end. An automobile crash near here Friday night took one life and injured several others. The one thing that people should always try to remember is to drive carefully and obey the traffic laws. Just one careless or thoughtless act while you're driving may cause you to end up as one of those dead or injured statistics.

Building and remodeling of various types is continuing at a good pace. While frameworks of new houses dot the town, commercial enterprises are also being constructed in the business district. The Taylor-Evans addition to their elevator space got underway last week. It may be completed in time to store most of this year's crop of wheat.

A sort of remodeling and rearranging job was started by Alvin McDonald over at the Oldsmobile place. Alvin is moving his office to another spot to allow for more working space and efficiency. If the good crops bring the prosperity we all desire, he's going to need all the extra space he can get for the business he's going to get.

Many of the people were saddened last week by the tragic accident of G. B. Heath. He was unloading a tractor near Dimmitt and it fell upon him. The accident occurred Wednesday evening late and even though Mr. Heath was seriously injured, by the end of the week he was getting along very well.

Sergeant Clyde Thomas, one of the military men assigned to the military staff at West Texas State College, is leaving soon to attend an army school. Sgt. Thomas doesn't know whether or not he will be re-assigned here or not, but it looks doubtful. He and Mrs. Thomas have a great many friends here who will be saddened by their departure. If they don't get to come back to live, we're hoping they will remember to visit us occasionally.

Auto crashes are always caused by 'the other fellow,' just be careful that 'the other fellow' isn't you.

All the political speeches of the past two years didn't do as good as half inch of the recent rainfall we received.

Wife to hubby after having her hair dyed, "But dear I had to change it to blonde because that's what gentlemen prefer and you are a gentleman, aren't you?"

Cortisone has been used successfully for the treatment of arthritis in cattle. Veterinary medical authorities also report the drug has proved effective in rheumatoid and arthritic conditions of horses and dogs.

Limited experiments with the addition of trace minerals to cattle rations failed to show any increase in the rate of gain. However, cattle fed trace minerals recovered more quickly from the effects of parasite infestations after treatment.

Winter cover crops blanket the soil protecting it from erosion.

PLATINUM ALLOY SHAPES TIRE CORDING

During World War II the demand of the armed forces for better tires for both ground vehicles and airplanes was so well met by rayon tire cording that this material is now widely used in peacetime tires. The strong, multi-filament yarn for the fabric is produced by extruding a viscose solution through thimble-shaped spinnerets having many tiny holes, each about three-thousandths of an inch in diameter. These spinnerets are made of a rhodium-platinum alloy to withstand the severe corrosive conditions encountered in the process.

WATCH OUT FOR THE FAST TALKING SALESMEN

Every year about this time, out-of-town roofing, siding and paint salesmen make their appearance in this territory. Your lumber dealer, or local workman, can tell you what will happen next! People complain about being charged outrageous prices for inferior materials and poor workmanship. So we issue this friendly warning; be on guard against hit-and-run selling tactics . . . don't be high pressured into buying a roof, siding or paint job at double regular prices . . . above all, get a quotation from your local lumber dealer . . . before you buy. Your favorite workman, or lumber yard will be happy to give you an estimate without cost or obligation.

THIS IS WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW

Roofing and siding is figured and sold by the square (area equivalent to 10 x 10 ft.)

Roofing and siding is packed in bundles and the number of bundles required to cover a square depends on the grade and type considered.

You should know the number of squares in your walls or roof.

You should know the brand, grade and weight of material involved.

You should know if the color of the shingle has been discontinued by the factory; and if the siding happens to be factory second.

You should know what materials are used in a roof paint.

AND ABOVE ALL

You should know definitely where this super salesman can be found one month or one year from now.
